

Senior Safety Risk Analyst Transportation

Excellent Base Salary plus benefits including bonus and final salary pension London

Operating at the forefront of safety & performance our client delivers a range of services to the rail industry. Involved in some of the UK's major transportation projects our client addresses risk management issues, develops standards, safety initiatives and manages major research programmes. Working alongside some of the UK railway's key decision makers you will be a part of this growing and successful team that helps the industry to deliver a safe rail industry.

As part of the Risk Team you will be responsible for developing and using safety risk assessments to deliver pragmatic solutions to pan-industry issues. You will provide key input to innovative research that will help maintain our client as a leader in the development of railway risk assessment within the UK and internationally. This is an excellent opportunity to work alongside experienced professionals in a fast moving environment while building new relationships with a broad range of people at all levels who are working together to make a positive difference to the industry.

With a track record of applying safety risk analysis methodologies and techniques you will also be passionate and innovative in your approach. You will be highly numerate and will possess excellent communication and influencing skills with the ability to solve complex industry problems.

Our client is committed to investing in the personal development of its people. This is an excellent hands-on role that will provide the opportunity to make a real difference and progress within an expanding organisation.

To apply call David Mills on 01293 802000 or email your CV, with remuneration details to, david.mills@psdgroup.com

www.psdgroup.com

PSD is a leading executive recruitment consultancy

